

All-Safe Pool

There are many different types of swimming pool fences including wrought iron, wood, vinyl, and others. At All-Safe, we believe that a removable pool fence is ideal, due to its transparent mesh, climb resistant nature, and removability. This type of swimming pool fence has been used for several decades to help prevent drownings.

A mesh fence creates a barrier between your house and your swimming pool, while still allowing a clear view of your pool. Mesh pool fence is easily removable in minutes by an adult, any time that children will not be present. When the swimming pool fence is not in use, the Removable pool fence offers some unique and desirable features as a solution to preventing infants and toddlers from entering the pool water unseen or unheard.

Most pool owners leave their removable pool fence in place if there is any possibility of unwanted access by young children. However, it can be easily removed in minutes and rolled and stored during occasions when a barrier is not desired. Unlike most forms of permanent swimming pool fence, All-Safe® removable pool fence is climb resistant and its transparent nature allows you to have a clear view of your pool. Frequent swimmers appreciate the convenient and quick adult access allowed by a pool fence as opposed to other types of barriers that are more time consuming and must be replaced after each pool use.
